

Doors to open at 7 p.m. for Dylan concert

Doors will open at 7 p.m. for music legend Bob Dylan's 8 p.m. performance on Thursday, Nov. 11, in St. Bonaventure University's Reilly Center Arena.

No use of cameras, audio- or video-recording equipment will be permitted by any member of the audience or media.

Dylan, who has not performed in the area in more than seven years, has recently released his autobiography titled "Chronicles, Volume 1," reviewed throughout the country, and has been featured on the cover of the Oct. 4 Newsweek magazine.

"Chronicles, Volume 1" hit stores on Oct. 5. This long-awaited memoir is a riveting look at Bob Dylan's life through his own eyes. He comments on various artists throughout his life that influenced him to play the music that he has become so famous for today. According to New York Daily News, "the book is drenched with song references and history that's loving, true and probably as close as we'll get to a window into Dylan's guarded soul."

According to Newsweek, Dylan worked for three years, on and off, to complete the book on a manual typewriter in capital letters so it would be easier for an assistant to read and retype. Outside of his book release, Dylan has six or eight songs written for a new album. He also wants to start re-recording many of his old songs.

Convocation, Reception at SBU to Announce Endowment in Memory of Ignatius Brady, O.F.M.

All are invited to attend an Academic Convocation and reception on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at St. Bonaventure University to honor the late Fr. Ignatius Brady, O.F.M., and recognize St. John the Baptist Province of Friars Minor, based in Cincinnati, which will announce a major gift establishing an endowment to the Franciscan Institute to honor his memory.

During the Convocation, Fr. Fred Link, O.F.M., Provincial Minister of St. John the Baptist Province and a new member of St. Bonaventure's Board of Trustees, will make the formal announcement of a $1 million endowment in honor of Fr. Ignatius, who was a member of the province for 60 years. A reception will follow in the Quick Center for the Arts Atrium.

The Academic Convocation will begin at 4 p.m. in the Rigas Family Theater. Fr. Michael Blastic, O.F.M., Conv., will offer an appreciation of Fr. Ignatius, who was one of the finest scholars of medieval Franciscan thought in the 20th century. Dr. Jacques Dalarun, a distinguished medievalist and the Fr. Joseph A. Doyno Visiting Professor of Franciscan Studies at the Franciscan Institute, will give the plenary lecture titled, "Clare and Francis of Assisi: Differing Approaches on Gender and Power." Fr. Ignatius was one of the first scholars to make the writings of Clare available in English translation.

Fr. Ignatius, one of the world's leading authorities on the thought and spirituality of the great medieval Franciscan writers including St. Bonaventure, earned a master of arts, licentiate in medieval studies and a doctorate in philosophy from the Pontifical Institute of Medieval Studies in Toronto. He taught at the Franciscan Institute in the late 1940s and 1950s and contributed to the revival of the graduate teaching program in the early 1970s.

Fr. Ignatius was one of the early members of the faculty in the Franciscan Institute who taught friars seeking to understand their own intellectual tradition," said Fr. Michael Blastic.

Fr. Ignatius taught at various institutions in the United States, including the Catholic University of America, then was assigned by the Minister General to the Collegio San Bonaventura, Quaracchi (outside Florence, Italy) and appointed prefect of its theological section. He continued in teaching, research and ministry for more than 40 years, serving as a theological consultant for the Union of Major Superiors.

"The life work of Ignatius Brady is identified with the English Speaking Conference of Friars Minor through its Commission on the Franciscan Intellectual Tradition," said Fr. Blastic.

In 1962, the Order of Friars Minor conferred on Fr. Ignatius the title of Lector Jubilatus, the highest recognition afforded his teachers, and in 1974, he received an honorary doctorate from St. Bonaventure.

"The more than 40 years of uninterrupted professional and recognized activity in teaching, formation, research and pastoral care ... tell eloquently the stature and intensity of his productive period of work, and merit our gratitude and special recognition," said Fr. John Vaughn, Minister General, when Fr. Ignatius returned to the United States for health reasons in 1983. He died on Aug. 4, 1990.

Those interested in attending the Convocation and reception are asked to make reservations with Jude Ann Yehl at the Franciscan Institute, (716) 375- 2595, by Nov. 10.
