

Country star Neal McCoy to perform December community concert

Country singer Neal McCoy is coming to St. Bonaventure University on Sunday, Dec. 11, to perform Christmas favorites as well as his hit songs, including "Billy's Got His Beer Goggles On," in a community concert beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Reilly Center Arena.

All seats for the concert are reserved. Tickets are $29.50 and went on sale Wednesday, 26. They may be purchased at the Reilly Center Arena's Ticket Office, all Tops Friendly Markets, by phone at (888) 223-6000, or online at tickets.com.

"The University is very pleased to offer this caliber of talent as a gift to the Olean-area community during the Christmas season," said Steve Plesac, director of student activities at St. Bonaventure. "This concert will include not only all the hits Neal's fans are accustomed to hearing on the radio, but a number of songs of the season as well."

Neal McCoy was born Hubert Neal McGaughey Jr. in Jacksonville, Texas, on July 30, 1958. He began his professional career as singer in a rhythm-and-blues band. Soon after he shifted his career to country music and began playing in bars and clubs throughout Texas.

In 1981 he landed a spot on tour as the opening act for Charley Pride. He stayed six years before leaving to pursue his own recording career in 1988.

In 1988 he released his debut single, "That's How Much I Love You," under the name Neal McGoy. His name was then modified to Neal McCoy in 1990 when he released his debut album "At This Moment."

To date, McCoy has sold more than 5 million records including three platinum albums, "No Doubt About It," "You Gotta Love That," and a greatest hits album, which was in the top 10 on the Billboard Country Charts for 19 consecutive weeks.

His self-titled album, "Neal McCoy" reached Certified Gold in 1996 securing

Neal McCoy

McCoy's place among country music's elite.

Other more recently released albums include "Be Good At It," in 1998, "The Life Of The Party," in 1999 and "24/7 '365," in 2000.

On Aug. 23, this multi-platinum country music star released his 10th album, "That's Life," the first on his own label, 903 Music.

"For all the success we've had over the years, I've always felt something was missing," McCoy says. "Now, with my first album on my own label, I'm able to do the songs I want to do just as I want to do them."

McCoy's reputation for exciting live shows precedes him and this performance promises to be no different.

"When the audience is really into it, it just doesn't get any better," says McCoy. "On stage is where I belong."

McCoy boasts many additional career highlights.

- 2005 ACM/Home Depot Humanitarian Award Winner
- 9 USO Tours with friend Wayne Newton since 2001
- Two-time TNN/Music City News' "Entertainer of the Year"
- CMT's "Top 10 Video of the Year – "The Shake"
- TNN/Music City News "Video of the Year – "Then You Can Tell Me Goodbye"
- Robert J. Burton Award (Country song most performed on Radio) – "Wink."
