

Sate when you get this letter you will say it is the flattest & silliest mess of stuff you ever saw & I will agree with you there. Sara you and those girls must have had awful time that night. What was I doing about that night? did I think it was time to Bank? I dont think I had such pertious hums that night I went to the post office as I might have had. But there no one was blind as Bat, they couldnt have seen through an open window that night. I do believe

I hope they will get a post office up in Stirlowan I will be so handy for the folks around there

Well Dear I dont worry you perhaps any longer with my silly non sense. Please excuse poor writing poor spelling read Black & blue ink & all the mistakes and write to me soon about your my best love & wishes for you Adrian

Friday Night
Oh, Dear Sadie you cant guess how lonesome it is here I like it better here than I did in the City too. But there dont any body come here only once in a great while & when we were in the City we had lots of company all the time & that is the reason why it seems so awful lonesome to me. Sate. I really wish you could just call in here this evening to see a poor scamp a little while.
I'd give 18 Chin plaster if you could come & then I am afraid that I would talk you so Blind before you could get a way that you couldnt see to get home a gain sent away in a few days

I don't know but what that was the best way not to say any thing about that letter it must be that it will get worn out after a while if Lydia continues to sing it much longer. But I hope she has got it a least worn out. Late I have no objection in what ever of you telling your Mother. of course that is all right. although she may not approve of such a thing. But it is all perfectly right that she should know your intentions I advise you accordingly.

Thou Mother is peddling as Baking the money is this. I think she had better go to the Post Office like an honest Person and get her mail than to be peddling as Baking. don't you think so?

then you are a going to stay at home this summer with your ma are you? if you do you must be an awful good girl but we know that you can be good if you try and I would like to be at home with my ma too. But I don't much expect to this summer. if Uncle Sam thinks it is profitable to keep me a year or two longer he can but I don't believe I shall be of much service to him this year. Well so do they are putting out the light, so I shall be in the dark in a little while if I don't stop writing. good night Tell Irving it is time for him to bunk. I am not quite ready yet

Sunday I guess if I have good luck I shall get this letter finished after a while. I am glad that infernal Jackson is gone a way. Wishes if to come
