

When this "Cruel War" is over it will make a difference in the feelings of some People.
Perhaps. Didnt Maty Willoughby let you read that letter she sent to you? if she did not I wish you could see it what a odd thing she is I have to laugh every time I think of her. Well Sallie I cant write much or more until I lay down & take a rest my head is aching like split. We are receiving orders every hours to man our Wagons are all ordered to Centreville (so the report is) if that is true it looks like as though we should get orders pretty soon to Skedaddle back for Washington. I hope we are not a going to have an other Pap. Skeddell. I think if we have to fall back it will be a Meed - Skedaddle. But I dont want to see either. You wanted to know in your other letter if I was a McC man I am not as much as a one as I used to be. You remember I was a strong one when I was at home last winter I have got smart over that name. Gold

My Dearst Sarah

I rec'd. your letter last night but I was so sick that I could not read but a little off it until this morning I have got a terrible hard cold & have had the headache for two days so that I have not done any duty at all I am excused from duty to day. So I have a plenty of time to write to you although my head aches pretty bad & dont feel much as though I could write. I expect I shall make more than a hundred mistakes & blunders but you must all look them for realy I feel as though I had got a Pumplkin in my thaaldus in the stead of a head. "perhaps you will say I have" to say I was glad to get your letter would not half express the feelings I had in and now hearing from my dear Sadir. I wonder if Sadir is ever as glad to get a letter from me as I am to get one from him. if you are I dont wonder that you want me to answer yours soone. did you think that I had got out of Patianer with you because I did not answer your letter soone? that was not the reason. Dearest. I answered it as soon as I could conveniently. I did not think of being out of patients with you nor did I think your letter was a lit silly (as you call it) When you write I want you to write <sup>just</sup> as you think & feel. & I will do the same Do you realy wish it was me that was coming home instead of Nelson? dont you wish that he could earn more. & one too? would that not be a better wish? I am glad that Nelson can have the privilege of going home to see his Friends once more But the I do that Orville has got I could not fancy very well. & I think too that Sadir would not fancy such an idea very much either. But there is some that it would please greatly "for instance" Orville & Hermeneur & Mr Rusts People too But your folks Sarah will come around all right in due time you need not be afeard med about them. I believe what Agg said is true. & they, will believe it after a little if they dont now. of course they would not do as say any thing but what they thought it would be for your benefit but after all folks can not all always tell what is for the best. I have no bad feelings towards your Folks in the least I always thought a good deal of your Folks & shall unless something of more importance transpires than these present feelings to towards me. after all I dont think they hate me

Monday Morning

My own Satis

I will try and finish this letter this morning. We had to pack up & leave yesterday as we had finished it yesterday. We did not skedaddle either as the report was that we were a going to. We crossed down nea er the River. I should not wonder if we crossed again to day. I don't know whether they intend to cross the river or not. But we can't go much farther this way without crossing. Sarah & I can't wait but a little to day for I am so sick my head aches terribly to day & I feel awful break my hand twice so I don't believe you can read this. I was not able to walk yesterday & carry my knapsack.

so I recd down her in a Ambulance if we have to march to day I dont think I shall walk far I dont feel hor-ribly a litte too if we had not marched yesterday I would have finished this letter you as good a litte as I could but to day I dont half write as I cant think up what I want to write so you must excuse me until I get bathed. I just recd a litte from Mary Ray this morning

Well my dear I shall have to close please dont think this cut short for I think you is as much if not more than you own read so far Write to me soon will you dear for you dont know how glad I am to get a litte from Sadie

I am yours ever true & loving ob-

Sadie
