New York, Aug. 10.—Armando Marsana, the Cuban outfielder recently procured by the New York American club from St. Louis in a trade for Lee Maeke, broke his right leg in the first

...then usual. The principal news items were read to him and he commented briefly.
The former President was asked if there was any word he wanted to send to his relatives.
"No," he replied. "I will be out of here soon and I don't want to bother them."
"That has been his attitude throughout," Dr. Morgan said. "He will do anything to assist me in administering to his needs. And above all, he always is cheerful as possible under the circumstances."

Dr. Morgan said it was impossible to state when Mr. Taft would be able

IMMEDIATE HIT IN DRIPES

HARD IN FLANDERS
FROM THE FRONT

Associated Press Correspondent Tells of Day's Hard Fighting.
British front in France and Belgium, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig's forces at daybreak this morning attacked and captured virtually all the German forward positions east of the Belgian town of Hooge on the battle front between Fressburg and the Ypres-Menin road.

The assaulting forces gained virtually all their objectives to the depth of several hundred yards in the first rush.

The German defenses stiffened after the initial onslaught and heavy fighting developed at some places, but at the latest reports the British were holding their new line strongly.

This section of the front was the scene of some of the hardest fighting on the first day of the battle in Flanders. South of Westhoek the terrain is marshy in places and in the wooded section the Germans had strengthened their positions by constructing deep dugouts. These obstacles, however, did not deter the onward rush of the British troops this morning.

Details of the fighting are not yet available but it is known that the British troops forged forward in the wake of a protecting barrage from their artillery and achieved most of the objectives in a remarkably short space of time.

Expect Counter Attacks.
Following their usual assault tactics, the Germans undoubtedly will counter attack almost immediately in an attempt to regain these important positions.

Yesterday was a disastrous day for the German air service which again was active after a long spell of bad weather that precluded observation.
Seven enemy aeroplanes were crashed to earth and another was driven down out of control.

The German aerial observation balloons also had a bad time. Two of them were destroyed and four others, emitting smoke, were forced to descend in a flabby condition. Three others were hit by British airmen and still three more were forced down by long range fire from the British guns.

The German artillery continues to pound the British positions before Lens. Points east of Vimy ridge and west of Lens were heavily shelled throughout yesterday. German gunners were especially active along the whole British front from Nieuport to the southern extremity of the line.
