

only one on exhibition in this country. In connection with the Circus, all to be exhibited under one monster pavilion, this Menagerie promises a rich treat, and we bespeak overflowing houses.

Brigadier-General P. H. Jones, formerly Colonel of the 154th Regiment, arrived in town on Thursday evening last. The Colonel of the 154th, with whom he seems to be a favorite, burnt some gunpowder in honor of their leader. Gen. JONES, it will be remembered, went out at the opening of the war as a member of the 37th Regiment, was promoted to a 2d Lieutenant, and had so far advanced by promotion, that, upon the organization of the 154th, in 1862, he was placed in command of it as Colonel. His gallant conduct on the field of battle, of which all speak in praise, did not go unrecognized or unappreciated, and in February last he was promoted to a Brigadier, though he had for several years prior been in command of a brigade. His promotion has been rapid, but not more so than has been deserved. We learn that he intends to again take up a residence in this city.

SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN BY OWNER WANTED.—We learn that on the 1st instant, at about 4 o'clock in the morning, a man was observed to enter the woods of the village of Randolph, leading a horse. He was soon afterwards seen to return and obtain his own and the horse's tracks, and to enter the woods. These movements creating a suspicion that all was not right, he was followed, and traced from where he first entered the woods some distance into a swamp. The horse was found hithed and feeded on hay which had evidently been carried there during the night. But the man, upon observing the approach of those who were watching him—had left. He was afterwards arrested about a mile and a half from the horse, and taken before Esq. WRIGHT of Randolph. He refused, on his examination, to give any satisfactory explanation of his conduct, or to give his residence, and probably has given his name correctly. In default of required bail, he is now lodged in jail in the village. This horse is a heavy, light bay, with a small white stripe in his face, and two or three white feet. The owner may find the horse by applying to the Wagoner at Randolph. There is little doubt that the horse has been stolen, and the press will serve the cause of justice by giving these facts publicity.

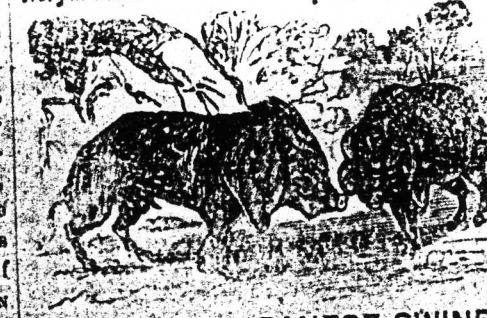

LEOPARD and YOUNG.
These beautiful creatures although bred in a cage, exhibit as much ferocity as any ever captured in their native jungle. They are the first ever bred in this country, consequently a great curiosity.

A WILD KANSAS BUFFALO.
Recently captured on the Western plains. It is sometimes attacked by wolves and even the grizzly bear. When wounded it becomes enraged and hard to destroy, as every thing that comes within its reach.

A PAIR OF WHITE POLAR BEARS.
From the icy regions of the North Pole. These savage, intractable creatures were captured on a drifting island of ice over one hundred miles at sea.

A PAIR OF JAPANESE SWINE.
The first ever imported. To farmers, these ill-looking creatures are a great curiosity. Their huge pendulous ears and wrinkled visage give them decidedly a very ugly appearance. Besides an immense number of other animals too numerous to mention.

WILL EXHIBIT AT ELLICOTTVILLE, Thursday, July 27. Doors open at 1 1/2 and 7 1/2 P. M. Admission 50 cents. Children under 12 years 25 cents.
