Dennis,

According to a Civil War pension record of William her name was Margaret "Maggie" Osterhout.

Matt,

Thanks for sending this information and the images. I've added a couple of the images to our web site, with credit to you. I also filled in a bit of the biographical background you related. Do you know William's wife's name? We just have "Mrs. Osterhout" on the document in hand.

All the best,

Dennis

Dennis,

Thank you for the information on Private William Osterhout. His brothers Abram (Private Abram Osterhout, Co. I, 34th NYVI , my Great great Grandfather) and James (Private James F. Osterhout , Co. C. 107th NYVI) both survived the war. Enclosed I have a photo of William's government grave stone in Annapolis National Cemetery, grave 2322, section F. This photo was from findagrave.com and is credited to Nancy Sheads. I also have a hand written record of births and deaths of the Osterhout family with William listed. I visited the 154th NYVI monument at Gettysburg a few summers ago and took some pictures of the monument and the mural at the Brickyard where William was captured.

If I find anything else relevant in my research I will send it along.

Thanks again,

Matt Hereford
