[Medical Practitioners in Ischua, p. 140]

Albert A. Simons spent most of his life in Ischua. Born in Chaplin, Conn., Feb. 2, 1819, he entered as a medical student the office of Richard Charles, of Angelica, Allegany county, read next with his uncle, Paul Simons, of Bridgeport, Conn., studied a short time at the Medical Department of Yale College, and began practice in 1841 in Cuba, but two months later removed to Ischua. In 1862 he enlisted in Co. C, 154th N. Y. Vols. Dr. Simons received a license from the Eclectic Medical Society of the 32d Senatorial District on September 23, 1874. He had two sons who are physicians--one in Chautauqua county, the other in West Virginia. Dr. Simons retired from active practice some years ago and died March 31, 1893, his remains being buried at Scott's Corners. He married, in April, 1842, Marilla S., daughter of Benjamin Townsend, of Ischua, who survives him.
