FROM CO. A, *154*th REGIMENT,

When you have become aged, Congress will pass laws to help you, and you will need this discharge to prove your honorable service. Your widow or children may need it after your life has ended. PRESERVE IT WITH GREAT CARE.

The name of the owner of this discharge is on our books, and he will be promptly notified of any law passed for his benefit. He should keep us informed of any change in his post office address, so that any letter will always reach him without delay.

PRESENTED BY

WASHINGTON, D. C.
ESTABLISHED IN 1864.

ANY SOLDIER WHO DESIRES TO PRESERVE HIS DISCHARGE, CAN GET ONE OF THESE ENVELOPES, MADE OF STRONG MATERIAL, EXPRESSLY FOR SOLDIER'S DISCHARGES, BY SENDING US THREE THREE CENT STAMPS, AND STATING HIS COMPANY AND REGIMENT. HIS NAME WILL THEN BE ENTERED ON OUR BOOKS.

TO THE SOLDIER'S WIFE:

KEEP THIS DISCHARGE IN A SAFE PLACE. You or your children will need it, when new laws are passed. If this is lost, it may cost much money and delay to gain your rights, and perhaps, without it, you cannot get what will be due you.

TO THE SOLDIER:

NEVER PART WITH YOUR DISCHARGE.

A discharge is of no value to any one except the soldier or his heirs; but to them it is of

THE GREATEST VALUE.

The country will never forget its soldiers, and they will need their discharges to prove their service.

This envelope is made and presented so that this discharge can always be safely preserved.

Any soldier whose

DISCHARGE HAS BEEN LOST

or destroyed, can get a new one and should do so at once. We will send blanks and will charge very moderately. When we get it, it will be sent to the soldier in one of these envelopes.
