The St. Bonaventure class of 2001 has made it! These graduating Bonnies are making possibly one of their greatest breakthroughs yet, their breakthrough

Pulling Through

Throughout these seniors’ time here at Bona’s they have learned to deal with life’s ups and downs. When the downs have hung around a little too long there’s always a friend to help you along the way. Bonaventure has been a home away from home and has felt like an extended family, as everyone here has a special connection to one another. Each and every person is a BONNIE.

What is a Bonnie anyway? Bonnies go to class in Plassmann, smiling at the people they pass along the way, holding a door or extending a greeting even in the most bitter cold. Bonnies live in dorms, go out on the weekends and share their time, energy and memories with other Bonnies.

Into Their Own

As these Bonnies come into their own in this brand new world, those left behind watch and wish them luck for they know that their time is soon to come. As these seniors well know, semesters fly by and a

Renaissance Faire

September 22-24

This year, St. Bonaventure held its first annual Renaissance Faire. The activities started on Friday when students from several high schools were bused in to take part in the various activities planned for them. It was a fun learning experience headed by Dr. Eleanor English of Bonaventure's education department. On Saturday and Sunday the real festival began with activities for all ages, which were reflective of the Middle Ages. The event was co-chaired by Roger and Barbara Sorochty from University Advancement and Public Relations. Despite the bad weather, there was a great turnout and the coordinators look forward to carrying on this tradition annually.

R O O M M A T E S

The class of 2001 has learned as much in the residence halls as they have in Plassmann. Whether you lived in basement Shay, Third Fal, or an apartment or townhouse, living with a roommate or roommates, as the case may be, teaches us lessons about other people as well as ourselves. Senior Angie McDaniels says, "most of the friends you make freshman year are your friends for all four years." For some people college is their first experience with having a roommate and this can be a rude awakening for some. Sharing space as well as spending much of your time with someone can teach you a lot, some times even more that you wanted to know.

However, more often than not roommates soon become friends and these new friends feel like old ones before you know it. They have played numerous roles in your life, friend, confidant, counselor, and they help to fill the void that was left the day you saw your parents drive off campus for the first time. Roommates have dried your tears cheered you up and even made a Hickey dining experience enjoyable. Roommates are what help make Bonaventure become your home away from home, they are the people you will hopefully keep in touch with always.

Residence Life

The residence life staff here at Bona's works hard to help incoming freshmen as well as the other classes feel welcome in their residence hall, apartment or townhouse. They help to keep disturbances to a minimum and keep their residents happy. This is a tough job with many and various responsibilities such as sitting duty and being responsible for their peers safety.

On every floor in the residence halls there is a resident assistant as well as a mentor to assist students with whatever questions they may have from a fight with a roommate to where they can find a vacuum. There is also a resident director whom you can go to if your RA doesn't have the answer.

Resident Assistants usually try to help make freshman student's transition into college a little easier by directing floor programs such as pizza parties, or tie-dying, or even a trip to the Mountain. This helps students get to know the others on the floor and create a sense of unity amongst the floor residents.

With the help of the residence life staff students become more easily acclimated to the college way of life and oftentimes are helped to meet the friends that will last a lifetime.

Faculty Entertains the East Side of Campus.

A few members of the St. Bonaventure University faculty provided some enjoyable entertainment for the East Side of campus this spring.

The sounds of the Allegheny River Band could be heard from the new townhouses to Francis as many upper classman took this opportunity to enjoy the great weather. There were barbecues and beverages enjoyed by all.

Many students brought their lawn chairs and their free time to the front lawn of the townhouses to take some time off studying and have fun with the help of some generous faculty.

Spring Weekend 2001

April 27, 2001, began the annual Spring Weekend for St. Bonaventure University. The softball tournament kicked off at 4 p.m. and campus was blessed with good weather. Activities planned for the weekend other than the softball tournament included lunch and dinner buffets on the lawn in front of the Hickey, CAB music at the Rathskeller, a faculty senior social, dance parties and to top the weekend off the headlining band, Everclear. Flip and Mayfield 4 opened for the popular alternative rock group on Tuesday, May 1.

Most students seemed pleased with the band selection and they were excited for a weekend filled with good times, great friends and all the softball they could want.

very year, the seniors at St. Bona's get together to count down the days until their graduation. Several times throughout the year, parties are held specifically for this purpose, usually at the Rathskeller. Here the seniors can socialize and discuss their plans for the future and just have fun. The "days" include 200, 100, and 50 days.

Family Weekend

The last weekend of September is a favorite weekend for many Bona students and their families. It is a chance for families to get together and meet other Bona families. Family Weekend offers various activities for students to entertain their parents, siblings or anyone else they decide to introduce to the Bona experience.

For students this is a chance to oftentimes see their families for the first time since leaving home for the fall and for parents a time to take their kids shopping, out to dinner, and make sure they're still in one piece after the first month. This year the University offered many activities including the Trippin' Billies, a Dave Matthews tribute band, picnics, outdoor activities, a golf tournament, a comedy act, an organizational fair, and a closing Mass on Sunday.

All of these things help students to keep their parents busy during their three days here. For the most part this is a good time for students to reunite with their families and show them what they've been up to for the first month back at school. Through the years roommates get to know each other and each other's families, leaving both students and parents looking forward to not only seeing each other but the other Bona families, joining together each year at Family Weekend.

Congratulations to the class of 2001!!

For the past four years this year's seniors have called St. Bonaventure "home". Now, after these years of hard work and fun, they will be moving on. Some will continue their education and others will seek jobs in a very competitive work place. But, no matter where they go, the lessons they learned at St. Bonaventure will last them a lifetime. Seniors, please remember that you will always be welcome at St. Bonaventure. You will always have a "home" here. Good luck in all that you do. We know that you will break into your futures with confidence and courage. We are proud of you!

Senior Class Officers

This year's senior class officers were hard at work planning and organizing events for the class of 2001 under the leadership of class president Bill Blik and the guidance of advisor Nikki Bomasuto.

The officers were Bill Blik, President, Kathleen Schreier, Vice President; Salvatore Dicenso, Treasurer; Jessica Jock, Secretary; Kate Lewis, Special Events Coordinator; Kimberly Dollard, Special Events Coordinator; Laura Biviano, Off-Campus Representative; and Deidre Ashe, Public Relations.

All officers contributed and dedicated themselves to making a success of 200 Days, 100 Days, Beyond Bona's, 50 Days, and Senior Week events (including Olympics, Block Party, slide show, Faculty Dinner, Candlelight Ceremony and Baccalaureate Mass).

As the senior class celebrated the countdown to graduation, they used themes such as Halloween Costumes, Black Light Party and a semi-formal event to coincide with the remaining "Days". The officers also helped organize the "Beyond Bonas" event that was a program designed to provide seniors with practical tips and strategies for the work world outside Bonaventure. The remaining months were spent organizing and preparing for these events which united the senior class before graduation.

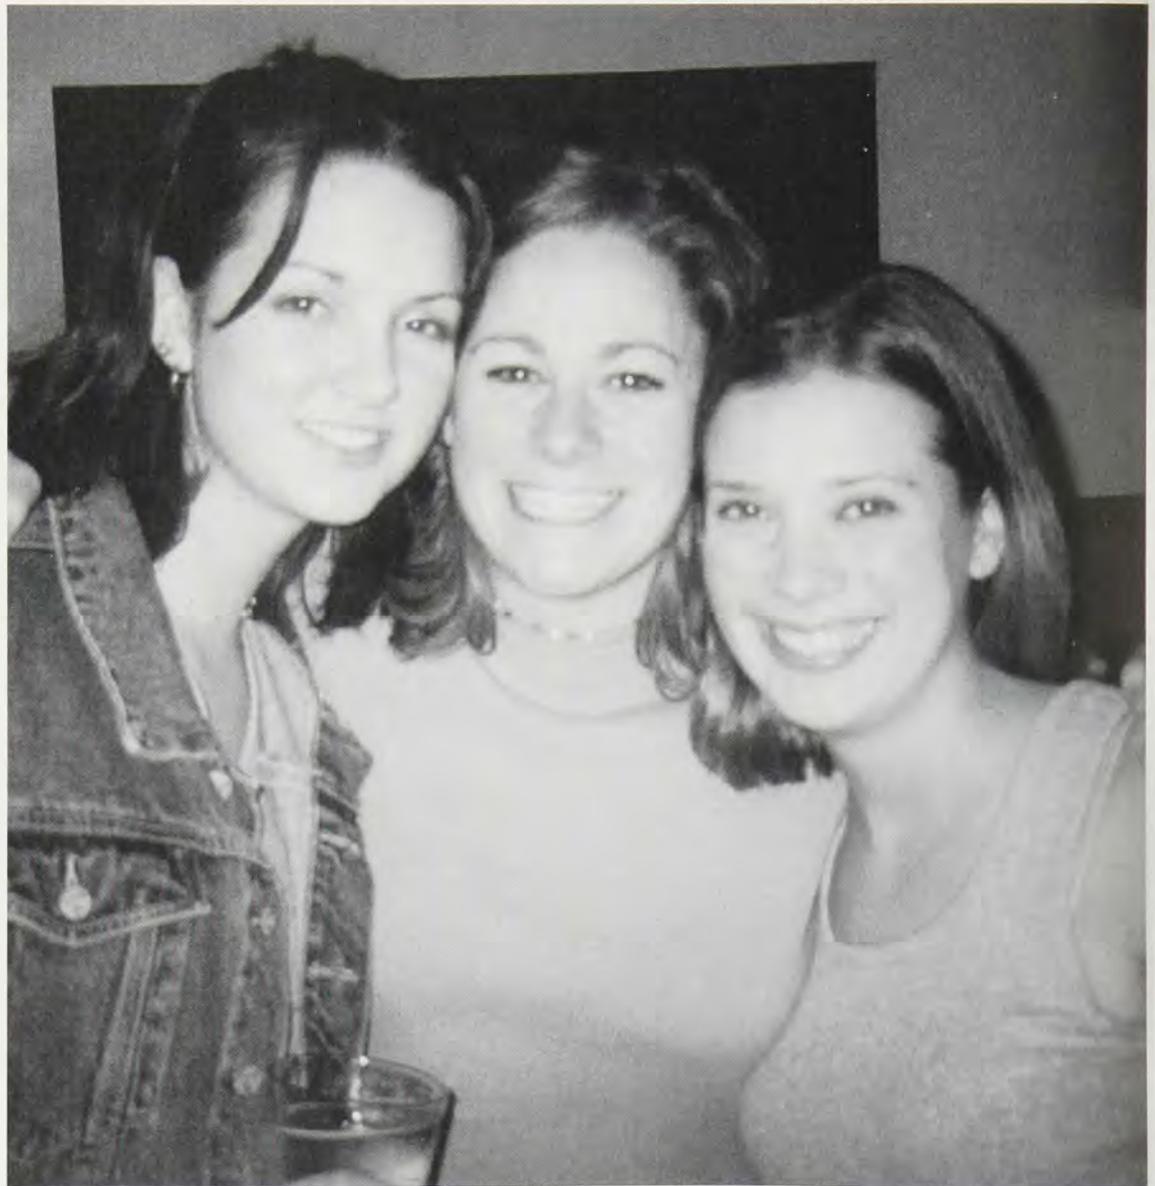

The officers would like to congratulate their fellow classmates and wish them the best in the future.

Senior Week 2001

Each year, St. Bona's holds Senior Week for all graduates the week after exams and before Commencement. The week is packed with activities attended by graduates and their families.

This year's activities included a "Kick-Off" breakfast on Wednesday, May 9 in the Rathskeller followed by Senior Olympics on the Hickey lawn. That night, the Red Light District played at the Senior Social in the Rathskeller.

On Thursday, a block party was held on the east side of campus where graduates gathered with faculty to reminisce, followed by a Senior Dinner and Slide Show.

Friday was family day at Mt. Irenaeus and the traditional Candlelight ceremony.

TRADITION

Judging by the pictures from Senior Week, it appears that the Senior Olympics that was scheduled to take place on Wednesday afternoon quickly turned into a Senior Water War.

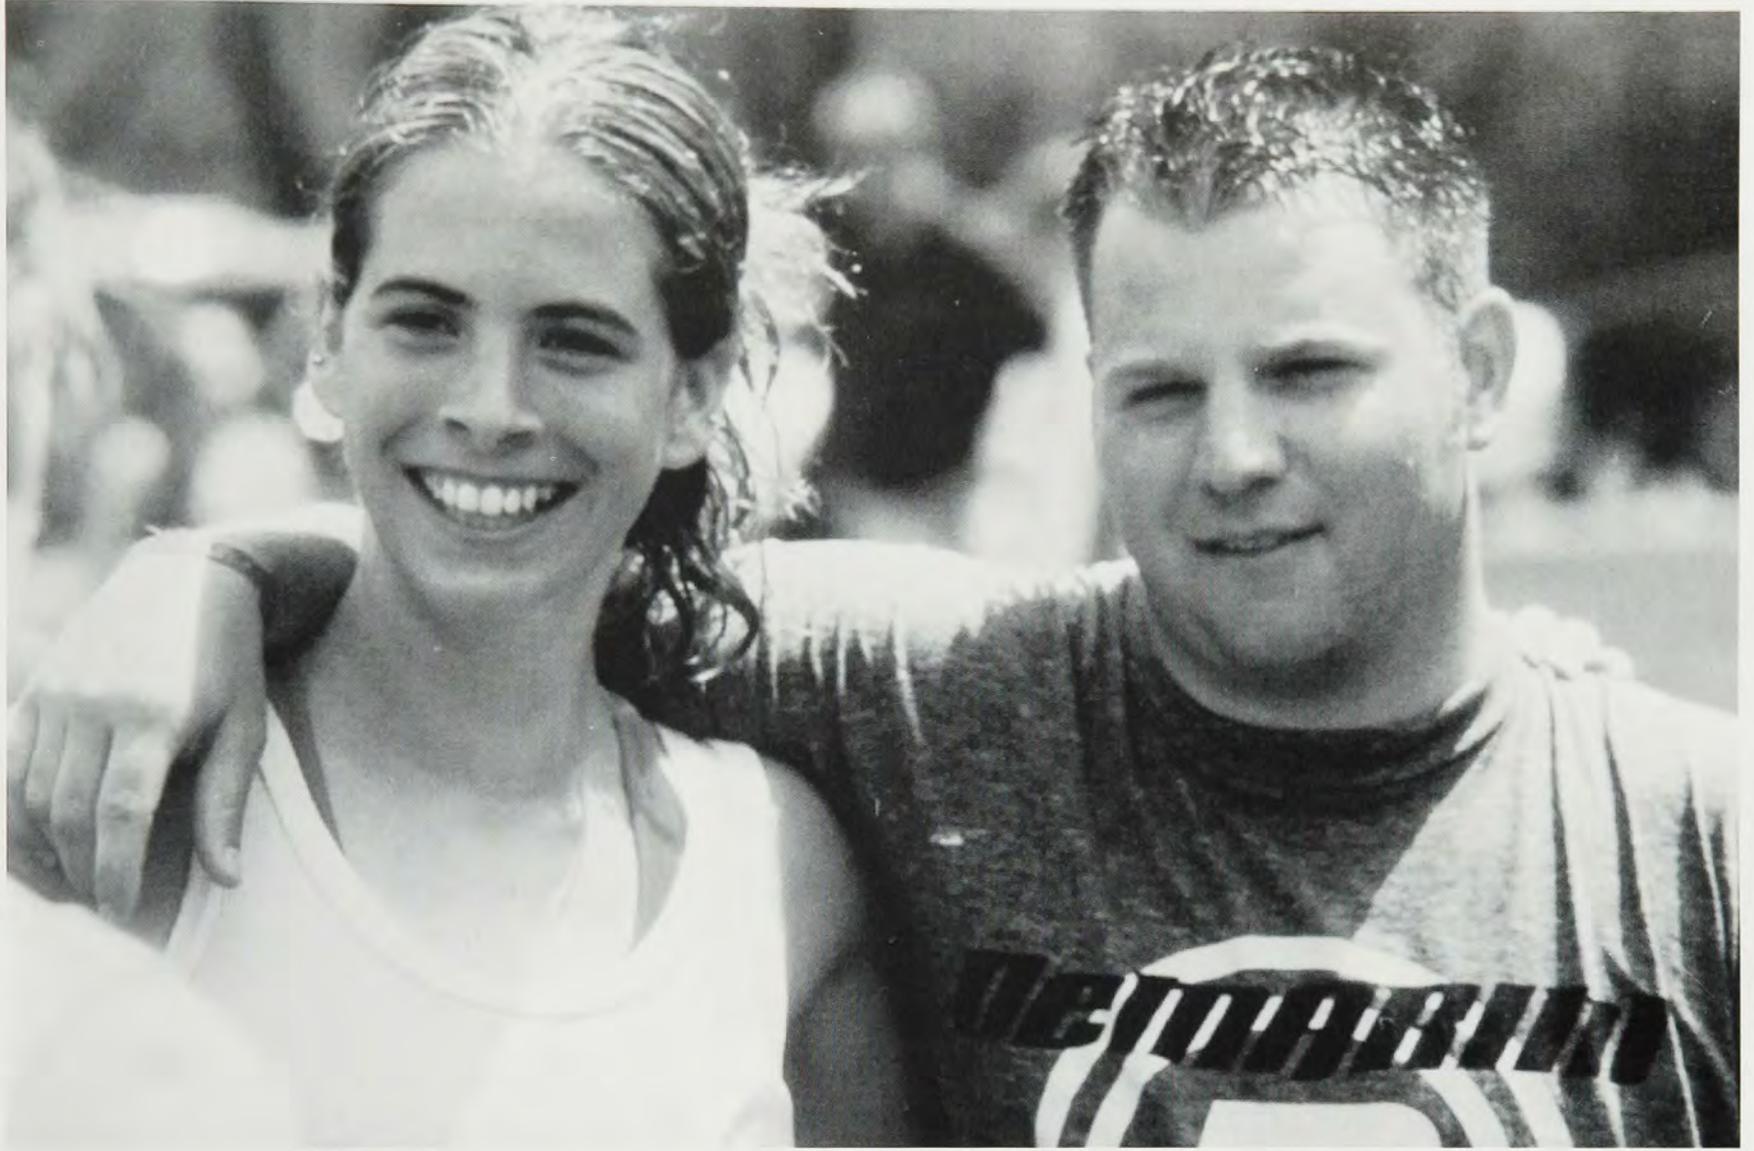

This week of activities enabled the graduates to spend some final days of quality time with their "Bona Buddies" before moving on to the next phase of their lives. At the same time, many of the events included parents, enabling them to catch a glimpse of the St. Bonaventure environment in which their child lived for so many years.

THE BIG BREAK

On Mother's Day, Sunday May 13th, St. Bonaventure's graduating class of the year 2001 attended their commencement ceremony, thus completing a milestone in their academic lives.

Saturday, May 12

Senior Week continued into the weekend with the commissioning ceremony of the senior ROTC members in the Rigas Family Theater at 9 a.m.

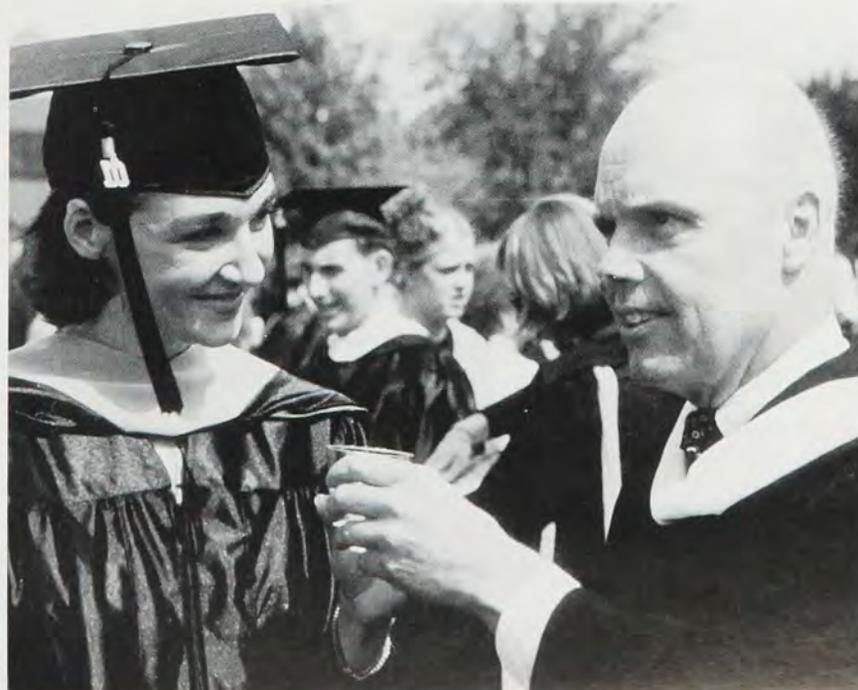

At 4:30 the Baccalaureate Mass was held in the Reilly Center Arena for both parents and students.

Sunday, May 13

This was the big day for the seniors. Each graduate was allotted tickets to the graduation ceremony, which was held shortly after noon in the Reilly Center Arena. Family and friends gathered to show their support for the graduates.

Due to the lack of space, some students also received tickets for additional family members to watch the ceremony on a screen in Murphy Auditorium.

Commencement Exercises and a champagne reception followed the ceremony on the lawn near the Reilly Center.

Speak Out!

We asked the Seniors:

Being a senior means?...

“Stress caused by not doing work because of my horrible case of senioritis.”

-Deidre Ashe

“Leaving a place that I love and leaving my good friends that I made behind.”

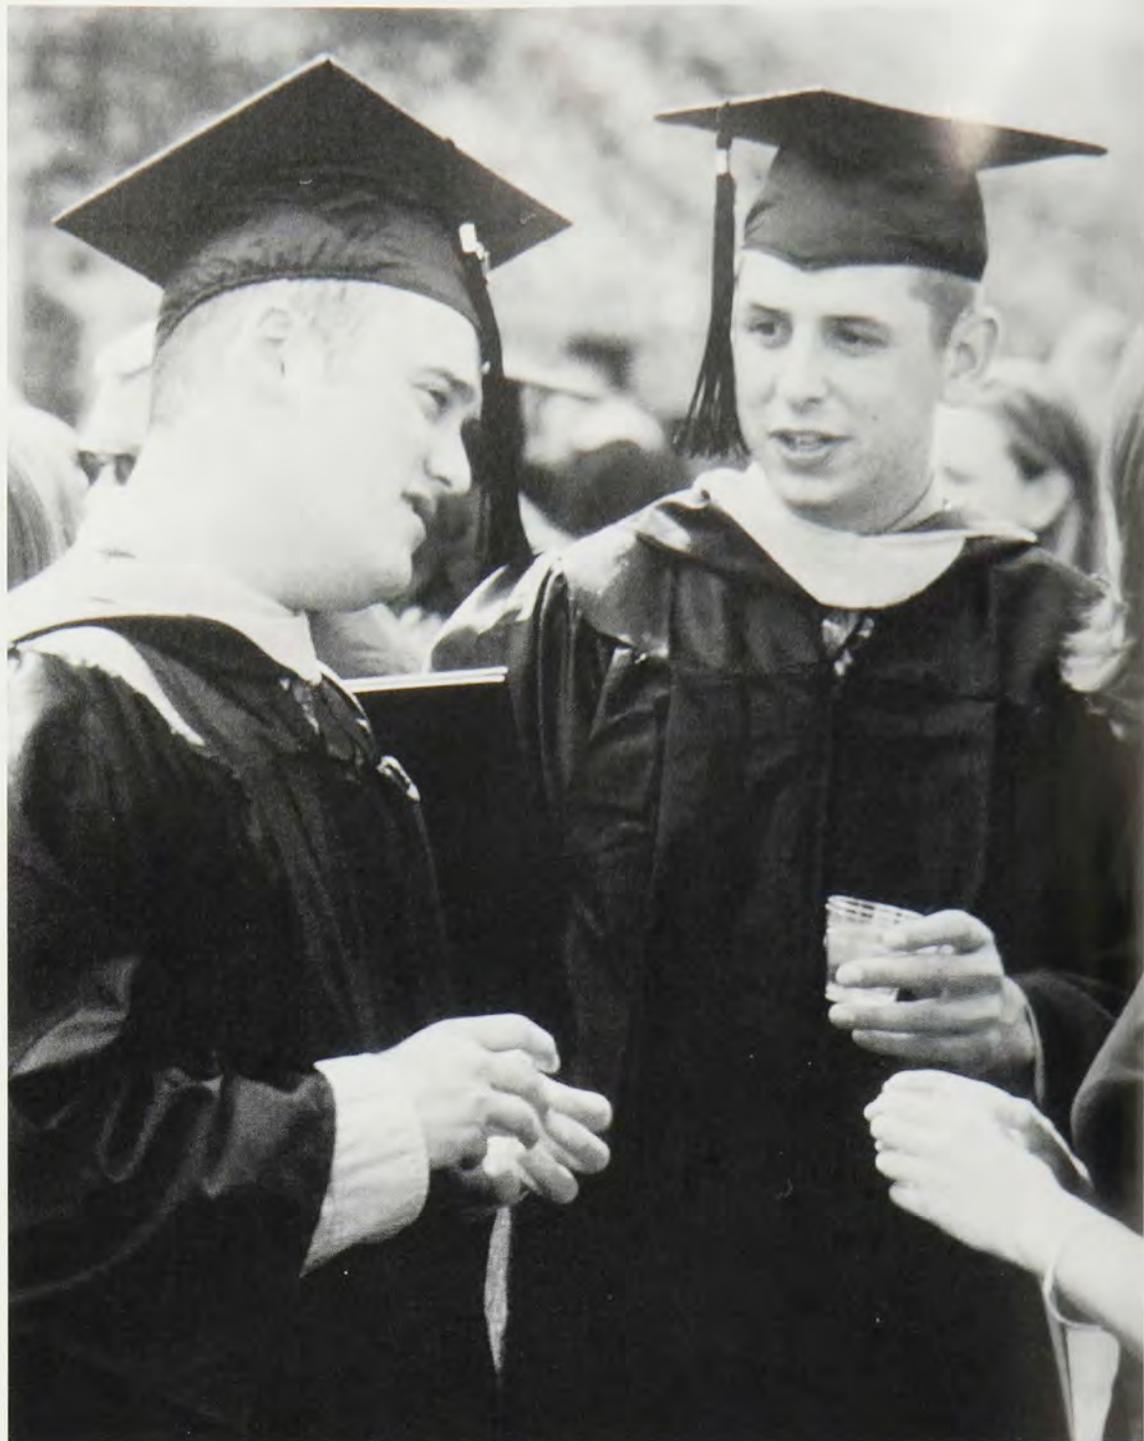

-Kerri Markus

“Deciding what to do from here.”

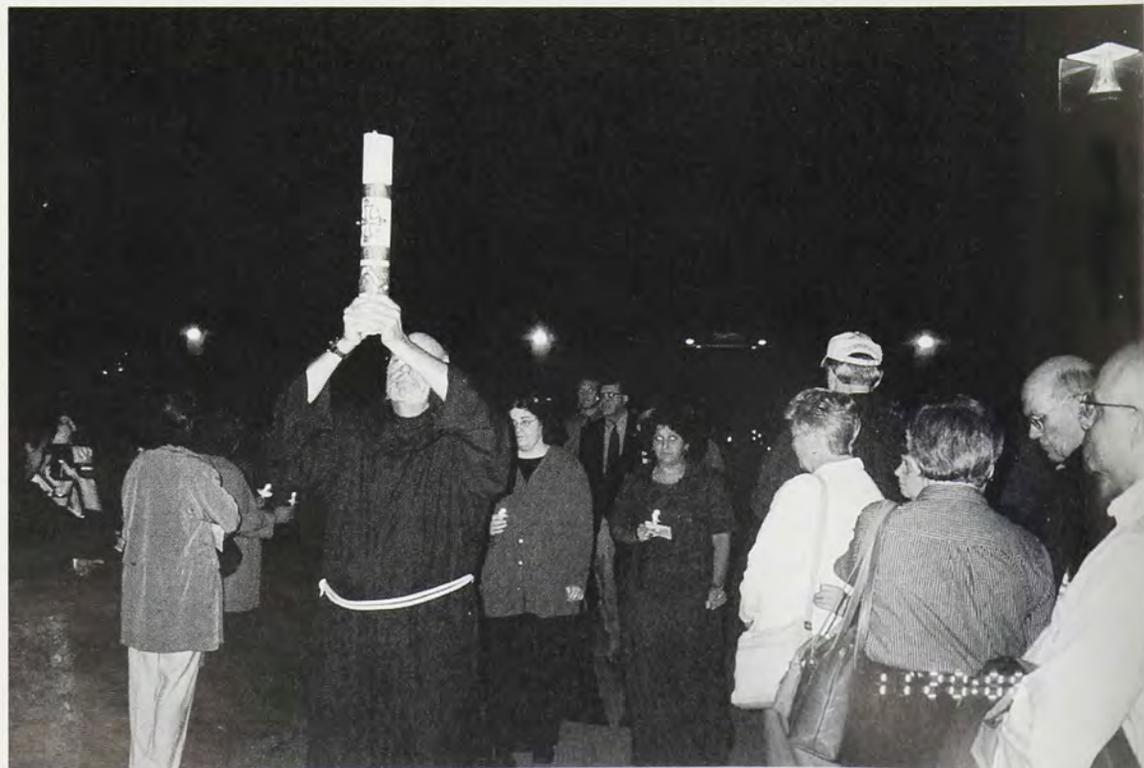

-Megan A. Labuda

“Getting ready to move on but finding things to take with you.”

-Jason Dusett

Right: Father Dan leads the procession for the Candlelight Ceremony on Friday of Senior Week.

It wouldn't be graduation if the seniors didn't write messages to their family and friends on their caps.

Men's Soccer

The Y2K phenomenon was only supposed to affect computers, but somehow it worked its way onto the soccer field.

Aspirations were high for the 2000-2001 St. Bonaventure men's soccer team this year after coming off its best season in recent memory. Last year's squad set a school record with eight Atlantic 10 wins and earned its first-ever berth in the A-10 Tournament. However, a mixture of inexperience and injuries hurt the Bonnies this season as the team finished 6-12 overall and 4-6 in the conference.

"It is always disappointing to finish with a losing record," said second-year head coach Bill Brady. "Being an optimist, I believe we played attractive soccer this year but were unable to avoid big mistakes."

After stumbling through a tough non-conference schedule that included games against Penn State and Vermont, the Bonnies looked primed to make a return to the A-10 Tournament. Bona won an overtime thriller against Duquesne, 1-0, to start the conference season and back-to-back games against Colgate and Canisius leading up to the bulk of its A-10 schedule.

Unfortunately, Bona's first weekend of conference games came on the road against Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The Bonnies dropped a 2-1, overtime battle with UMass and fell to #18 Rhode Island, 2-0. The weekend was the beginning of a five-game conference skid during which the Bonnies lost to Dayton, Xavier and Fordham, and effectively knocked them out of A-10 contention.

To the team's credit, they didn't roll over and die; the Bonnies won their next three A-10 games. They downed La Salle (3-2) and George Washington (2-1) at home and St. Joseph's (2-0) on the road before bowing to Temple in the final game of the season.

Senior captain Sean Kelty led the team in scoring with three goals and six assists for the year. He recorded three games with at least one goal and one assist and was an integral part of the Bonnies' offensive attack. For his efforts, Kelty was named to the A-10 All-Conference second team at the end of the season.

"I feel the worst for Sean because of how much he has put into this program over his four years," said Brady. "I know he would have liked to gone out on a winning team, but his hard work and dedication have set the bar high for the entire program."

Joining Kelty with second-team honors was first-year midfielder Geron DuPorte. The sophomore from Ontario finished third on the team in scoring with four goals and two assists in 16 games. DuPorte was also selected to the A-10 All-Rookie Team along with teammate Said Ali. Ali, another native of Ontario, played in 17 games and finished with two goals and five assists. He was also named A-10 Co-Rookie of the Week for the week ending Oct. 8.

Though not recognized by the conference for their play, sophomore Johnny Phoumanny and junior Anthony Battaglia were large contributors in the Bonnies' offense. Phoumanny led the team with five goals on the year and also recorded an assist. Battaglia scored his three goals in A-10 games and recorded three assists on the year. He also proved to be a clutch scorer, as two of his goals were game-winners.

Though the Bonnies weren't able to repeat the success they attained last year, their tough play at the end of this season hints that better days are ahead. The team will lose only one senior and will return a solid and more experienced core of players.

"We have to be excited for next year because all our young players gained valuable playing experience this year," said Brady. "I believe in our returning guys and I'm confident we can return to the top of the Atlantic 10."

Brady will be sure to work out all the bugs during the offseason, making sure that this year's Y2K problems don't disrupt future Bona soccer seasons.

Sticking to their guns

Led by Karin Helmbrich and Stef Palma, the field hockey team had another great year. Despite losses to Canisius, Buffalo, Fredonia and Alfred, the girls had fun and are looking forward to next season.

The team's final record was zero wins and one tie (0-4-1).

Shoots under par

The 2000-2001 golf season was a year of rebuilding for the Bonnies men.

After several road trips to schools such as Duquesne and Temple, St. Bonaventure's top finish was at home in the Leo Keenan Invitational. Junior, Tyson Pedacchio took first place individually. This was a good improvement after they placed 8th out of 11 at A-10s.

The team is hopeful that there will be improvement next year. Junior Ryan Mosher reports that "There is a good core of returning players for next year."

In addition, there seem to be some good freshman prospects. With these new players and a more experienced returning team things look better for next year.

Men's Swimming and Diving

After finishing 4-4 in the dual meet season, the men's swimming and diving team hoped to make amends at the 2001 Verizon/Atlantic 10 Championship. But while the Bonnies had enough to top six conference foes, they finished a distant second to a talented Massachusetts squad.

"Finishing second is acceptable for this season," said head coach Sean McNamee. "UMass had a very strong team this year, but this needs to sit as motivation for next year's team."

The Bonnies swam well during the three-day meet, but the Minutemen always seemed to be a stroke ahead. Bona didn't place higher than UMass in any swimming event.

Sophomore Borut Poje came the closest to giving the Bonnies a win. Last year's most outstanding rookie performer, Poje missed gold in the 200-yard butterfly by 0.12 seconds. Senior Kyle VanDenBerghe placed third in both the 100 and 200 breaststroke while senior Joe Price picked up the bronze in the 400 individual medley.

Junior Ernest Teo, who led the team with 14 individual wins this season, placed third in the 50 freestyle and played a major role on the relay squads. He helped the 200 medley and 400 free relay teams to silver medals and powered the 200 free and 400 medley relay teams to bronze.

Senior Jim Frisbie had career-best finishes in the diving competitions. He took bronze in the three-meter event and fourth in the one-meter, and his score in the former qualified him for the NCAA Zone A Diving Championship.

Overall, nearly every Bona swimmer recorded a season-best time at the championships, and freshman diver Randy Kozlowski—in addition to notching a team-high four wins during the season—made the final rounds of both the one and three-meter competitions.

"We have the talent and motivation to take back what UMass took away from us this year," said McNamee of the future. "Our responsibility will be to challenge them next year and prove that the title belongs at St. Bonaventure."

Women's Swimming and Diving

Lack of depth haunts team all season

As hard as they tried, the St. Bonaventure women's swimming and diving team couldn't overcome the lack of depth that had haunted them all season. As a result, the Bonnies finished 4-4 in the dual meet and placed third at the 2001 Verizon/Atlantic 10 Championship behind Massachusetts and George Washington.

With a squad of only 10 swimmers, Bona swam well enough to compete with the Minutewomen and Colonials. During the second day of competition, the Bonnies pulled into second place but just couldn't keep up the pace to stay there.

"When you consider we were going against teams with 18 swimmers, our performance is something to be proud of," said second-year head coach Lance Brennan, who was named A-10 Women's Coach of the Year for his efforts. "Our work ethic prior to the meet was what helped us succeed."

Juniors Katie Czech and Kelley Northup powered the Bonnies throughout the three-day competition. Czech won her first-ever A-10 individual title in the 400-yard individual medley. She also picked up silver and bronze in the 200 IM and 200 butterfly, respectively. Northup, in addition to finishing second to Czech in the 400 IM, took bronze in the 500 freestyle.

Senior Joanna Bubeck and sophomore Erin Smith, defending champions in the 1,650 free and 100 backstroke, placed second in their respective events. Smith, who swam her fastest time of the season, missed first place by only a hundredth of a second.

The Bonnies also put together three top-three finishes in the relay events. The 800 free relay squad placed second while the 200 and 400 medley relay teams placed third.

Junior diver Katie O'Connell placed second in both the one- and three-meter competitions, the highest finishes of her career. Juniors Kelly McDaniels and Kara Daly also posted career-best finishes. McDaniels placed sixth in the one-meter while Daly made the finals in both events.

Though the Bonnies lost four seniors in May, the future of the program seems strong. Seven juniors will lead the program next season, and Bona hopes to add several strong incoming swimmers to the roster this spring.

"Recruiting is obviously the key," said Brennan. "The recruits we've brought in so far have been excellent, and if we can get even half of them to sign we'll be in great shape for next season."

BONAVENTURE RUGBY TEAM VS ALFRED - OCT.21,2000

Lady Ruggers

After coming off a Division 3 State Championship title, the Bona Lady Ruggers began the season with great enthusiasm. We were moved up into Division 2, where the competition was much more intense.

The team's four captains led the team due to the loss of our coach, Bruce Snyder. Lauren Barbati, Paula Noga, Molly Dillon, and Becky Lippa took the leadership roles for the team as the year began with long practices and hard work. Our season was a lot of ups and downs as we played a couple of games that could have gone either way. Regardless, every game was played with heart, enthusiasm and teamwork.

This is a sport that no one person can win, and we have seen the results of that during our time on the field. Every member of the Lady Ruggers has played a significant role to the chemistry and energy of the team. We end the season with a 2-3-1 record, fourth in our division. The rucks, mauls, and those bruises turn out to be worth it in the end as it drives us to play even harder next time.

As a senior, I say good-bye to Bona Rugby for now, but the memories of how far we have come since freshman year will be forever etched into my mind. Good-bye to all the seniors leaving: Laura Biviano, Danielle Campanaro, Molly Dillon, Aimee Gartz, Katie Steadman, Julie Thompson and Kelly Wisner. Without all of you involved, it would never have been the same. Leadership has been handed over to Becky Lippa, Theresa Boucher, Nicole Forman and Corinne Kelly. We are confident that they will continue our reputation as a team that will always challenge every opponent (no matter how big they are) and never give up until the end. Are all the Ruggers happy? You bet we are!!

Oxford Program

The Francis E. Kelley Oxford Program allows 35-40 students the opportunity to study in England at Oxford University. During the summer of 2000 a group of students, along with Alan and Barbara MacKenzie, Bro. Basil Valente and Robin Valeri, crossed the 'big pond' to study at Somerville, one of the Oxford colleges.

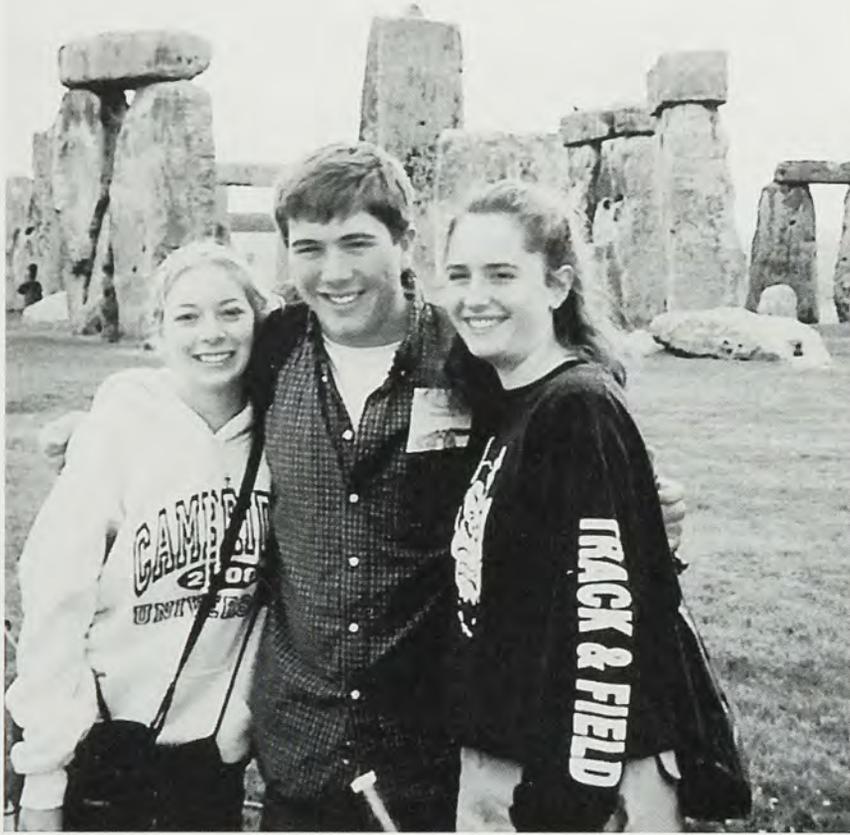

Along with taking classes students also got to visit many places in England. Weekend trips included going to Stonehenge, Bath, Cambridge, Portsmouth and a weekend at the Lake District in northern Britain. Among this group of students the favorite trip was to Ambleside, a small village in the Lake District. Here, students stayed at Bed and Breakfasts and spent the weekend hiking up mountains, playing soccer in the park, horseback riding among one of the lakes, and shopping.

Trips were also offered during the week, usually on non-class days and included day trips into London, Blenheim Palace and Warwick Castle. A long weekend allowed students to visit different European countries including Ireland, France and Italy. By-Megan Allaire

Student Ambassadors

“The Student Ambassador Organization is comprised of students who dedicate their time and efforts to St. Bonaventure University on a volunteer basis. Ambassadors provide prospective students and their families with information pertaining to student life, student activities, the campus buildings and facilities, the surrounding community, and the everyday experience of an enrolled student.” This is the mission statement of the SBU organization known as Student Ambassadors. Being a volunteer group makes this organization stand out from other collegiate institutes where most groups of this nature pay their students to participate. Clearly, the SBU students put forth their generous Franciscan values to better St. Bonaventure’s image.

What else makes this organization special? Senior Jess Davis, co-president of the group states, “I feel the Student Ambassador Organization is special because people who join this organization really love this school. We volunteer our time to promote school spirit and our wonderful experiences.” Ambassadors share good memories, insights, advice and sometimes little-known facts, such as the Hickey Dining Hall was named after the first postmaster of St. Bonaventure’s post office, Fr. Alexander Hickey O.F.M., who was also a former president of the University.

Andrew Kernan also a senior co-president states, “The prospective student is able to see the campus for what it truly is. A picture is worth a thousand words but a memory lasts a lifetime. If we help students to feel comfortable on their tour, then they will feel comfortable on campus when they start at the University.” He also feels that because the ambassador is closer in age to the prospective student he/she can more accurately relate to his/her apprehensions and questions, Andrew states, “The ambassadors are students therefore we are very close in age to the prospective student. Therefore we are able to talk like a fellow peer and answer questions that are most important to them.”

The Student Ambassador Organization is advised by admissions counselor Therese Runfola, a 1998 Bonas graduate. She just entered this position this year after being recommended for the job. “I looked at this duty as an excellent opportunity for me to interact a bit more with the current students,” states Runfola. Therese feels that the ambassadors are “true representatives” of life at Bona’s. She says, “This is the only organization that is given a pin with the SBU insignia- ENOUGH SAID!!!”

“The dedication of our student members makes the organization what it is today. We are also dependable and reliable. We never show just buildings, we share our lives with those families.”

Bonadieu

2000-2001 began another rebuilding year for the Bonadieu. However, the group was lucky enough to attract some great new staff members. Seniors Megan Allaire, Amy Kopf, and junior Kate Welc joined editor Jen Rice, assistant editor Kara Swanson and sports Editor David Longolucco to create an excellent team. Along with the help of their advisor Carol Higley the group worked hard throughout the year to produce a great book for the 2001 seniors.

With such a small staff, Bonadieu members take on various roles as writers, photographers, editors, and many other jobs. Working with Herff Jones and its representative Cheryl Medina made this year's book an enjoyable project. Hard work, great people and enthusiastic seniors have all helped the Bonadieu to break into the next level and produce a top notch book.

Hopefully, the staff will continue to grow and seniors will keep contributing all of their memories and love of St. Bonaventure to the yearbook. With these elements the Bonadieu can only grow and give seniors the well deserved highlights of their time here at Bona's.

Bona Buddies

To the world you might be one person, but to one person you might be the world.

One program run through University Ministries is Bona Buddies. This program matches a Bonaventure student with a child from the community.

The Bona Buddies program provides benefits to both the child and the Bona's student. For the child, it gives them a trouble-free activity to look forward to once a week. It also directly exposes them to the possibility of college. Best of all, it gives them an additional role model and confidant.

The program also gives many benefits to the student. It provides satisfaction that comes with helping other people. One of the greatest benefits of the program is exposure to a part of society which might have been missed otherwise.

Tina Denena, director of the Bona Buddies, says, "the program allows us to break out of our 'Bona bubble' and see the rest of the world for what it is."

There are a number of activities that Bona Buddies can participate in. Snow tubing, movies and sporting events are just some of the examples. It is also not uncommon to see a Bona Buddy enjoying dinner at the Hickey Dining Hall each night.

Tina believes that with every giving, there is a receiving of sorts and this program is truly an example of this. There are 150 matches in the program and it continues to grow each year.

The Franciscan Center for Social Concern

The Franciscan Center for Social Concern seeks to help students who want to get involved with issues of social justice. They invite students to share their ideas on peace and justice as well as talk about how these issues are affecting them and what they can do to help. The office is run by director Fr. Jud Weiksna O.F.M. and associate director Doug Looney on the first floor of Robinson Hall.

The center hopes to get students involved in direct service, including service trips as well as other means of service like Habitat for Humanity. They are also looking to start more advocacy groups such as an Amnesty International group. The center's vast resources on these topics are available to all interested students. Also made available by the center is a Peace Room located on the first floor of Robinson Hall as well. This room is available for prayer, reflection or just a quiet place to study.

To my Danielle AKA Alberta- You've come a long way baby!
Congratulations on a great accomplishment. You have completed the first leg on your road to success. The sky is the limit. I LOVE YOU!
Dad

Our dearest
Danielle: I can hardly contain my pride in you & your accomplishments. I know your studies of genetics will be instrumental in bringing better health & happiness to our wonderful world. Love you always,
Nana and Bepa

Dearest Danielle: I am very proud of you. This is a big milestone in your life & I am honored to be a part of it. I am very proud to be your wisest & older sister. Keep reaching for the stars and there will be no limitations to your success.
Love, Lynn

Nellie: You have been the sunshine in everyone's life- May the sun shine on you always. Congratulations on a job well done. Love, Anne.

Dear Danielle: I am so very proud of you and love you very much. Always remember your life is what you make it- Don't limit yourself! Everything and anything is available to you. There is no limit- be the best you can be! Here's to your success! Love always, Mom, Grandpa Joe, Grandma Jan, David, Susan, Uncle Joe, Aunt Kim, Kaitie, and Christen

D: I can't believe you are graduating from college already! Time seems to be going by so quickly, and with each passing day I grow prouder to be your sister. No matter the distance between us, I want you to know you are my constant inspiration to succeed and I am lucky to have such an amazing sister to look up to. We make an interesting pair- "The mad scientist" and the "starving artist." I love you so much, your little sister J.

Jimmy,
We are all so proud-Continue to follow your

Advice for Breaking Out into the World

Another year has come and gone and many memories were made along the way. As one group of students leaves the University and another enters, we, the Bonadieu staff, would like to offer the following advice as you break into a new chapter in your lives:

1. Believe in yourself- if you have confidence in yourself and your accomplishments, others will too.
2. Set challenging goals- when you push yourself to go above and beyond, you will find strengths you didn't know you had.
3. Be kind to those around you- what goes around come around.
4. Do not be afraid to love- the best parts of life involve risk, and love is one risk well worth taking.
5. Have faith- know that even when you can't see God, He's there.
6. Always be a Bonnie- even after you have left St. Bonaventure, take a piece of it with you. Remember what you learned here and let those lessons help you in the days to come.

Class of 2001 Pulls Through

This book is 160 pages. It was printed by Herff Jones. Our representative was Cheryl Medina. Our photographer for the senior portraits was Tom Martin from Martin Studios in Allegany, N.Y.

The staff would like to give a special thanks to public relations and sports information for providing them with information and photographs. Also, thank you to Jessica Jock, Nicole Forman, Brigid Mullen and Julie Sutura for contributing articles and or photos for the book.

As editor, I would like to thank my staff for being so dedicated and persistent in overcoming the obstacles that we faced while trying to make this book.

Let's Rise
